Gigantic Dragline Operating At Lake Okeechobee Dedicated

By Lawrence E. Will
Lake Okeechobee has seen some big cats involving machines, but the biggest one by far was formally dedicated on Oct. 31 some seven miles north of Ft. Mayaca.

This is an enormous dragline manufactured by Page Engineering Co., of Chicago and owned by Reynolds and Smith Construction Co., of Moore Haven.

It is to work on this company's 7½ mile contract on the Herbert Hoover Dike from the St. Lucie Canal north, tying in with the 10 mile contract of Arundel Corp. of Baltimore on which the big floating hydraulic dredge "General" is working.

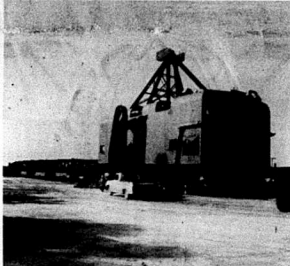

The completion of these two jobs will finish the encirclement of the lake by the Hoover Dike. This machine is of the walking type. Instead of moving on crawler tracks, two vertical "spuds" operating on an eccentric shaft, raise and move a pair of "shoes," like big pontoons. The machine then raises itself, moves ahead and sets down in the new location.

An advantage of this type is that should the bank begin to weaken, the machine can move itself directly away at right angles if necessary.

This dragline has a 200-foot boom. From the ground to its tip is 105 feet straight up. It swings a bucket of 21 cubic yards, one scoop of which would more than fill two of the largest dump trucks now on the road. This bucket is of the new "archless" type.

By using a new grade of steel, the machine will last for the past 30 years.

Edwin M. Lively, president of the Florida First National Bank, died while at his desk on Tuesday. The 57-year-old banker was stricken while in conference with a customer and was rushed to Glades General Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Long Distance Direct Dialing Comes To Glades

Direct dialing for nationwide long distance telephone calls is coming to the Glades area on Nov. 20 at 2 p. m. according to an announcement from C. D. Leonard, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

"Several years of planning, many weeks of diligent work and thousands of dollars worth of equipment will form the backdrop for the flipping of the switch in West Palm Beach on November 20 which will put the Belle Glade-Palooka exchange on the Nationwide Direct Dialing (DDD) network," Leonard said.

Western Electric Co., which manufactures the equipment, is installing equipment in Belle Glade and West Palm Beach. Calls from the Glades area will be trunked through the Belle Glades exchange, according to Leonard. Western Electric has been working on the system since June of this year.

With the DDD system, the entire country is divided into numbered areas. Belle Glade-Palooka area Code number is 305. Glades area telephone users will be able to dial any of the 80 million phones in the continental United States. Calls within the home area (305) will require only eight tones of the dial — one more than a local call.

Leonard points out that the service is engineered only for station-to-station long distance calls. There will be no change in rates because of it. "It's fast, convenient and easy to use," he added.

Here's how DDD will work on and after November 20 from Glades area telephones:

Season's First Celery Harvested In Week

The first celery harvested this season was cut on Billy Rogers' farm Thursday. Celery is one of the leading crops in the lake area.

The celery was shipped through South Bay Growers, Inc., one of the leading shippers in the Lake Okeechobee area. Billy Rogers is vice-president and treasurer of the company.

Don Scruggs, one of the produce salesmen at the company said approximately 3,000 crates of celery was cut Thursday with cutting resumed on Friday.

C. A. Thomas, president of South Bay Growers, Inc., plans to start cutting this week.

South Bay Growers, Inc., handled approximately one million crates of celery last season and says this year's harvest package-wise could exceed last year's harvest.

The company has been handling corn and radishes for the past couple of weeks.

Mathis Finishes From FBI School

Delano Bill Mathis, deputy chief of police of Belle Glade, was one of 100 law enforcement officers who graduated Monday from the FBI National Academy in Washington Tuesday.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced the exercises which culminated the 76th session of the academy. A significant milestone was the graduating of the 5,000th student among the 100.

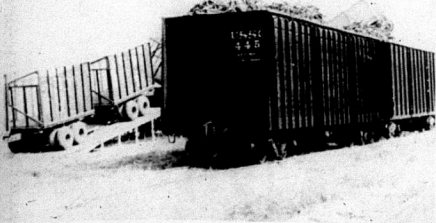

A large number of dignitaries addressed the graduating class, including Efram Zimbalist Jr., who stars in a television series about the FBI.

Police Chief Charles Goodlett of the local police department is a former graduate of the school.

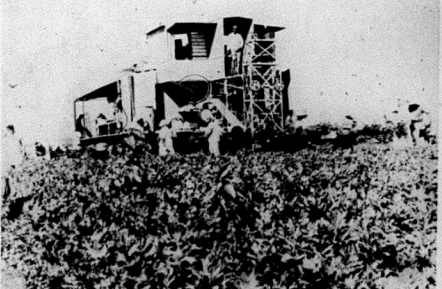

C. A. (Mutt) Thomas of Lake Harbor burned off the first field of cane last Saturday, October 29, in preparation for harvesting for the opening of the 1966-67 grinding season.

Thomas is an independent grower with grinding rights at the U. S. Sugar Corporation Mill in Clewiston. The Bryant Mill and the Clewiston Mill, both belonging to U. S. Sugar Corporation, started grinding Tuesday, November 1.

According to Nelson Fairbanks, general manager of Florida Sugar Cane Growers League, the Tallman Mill will start grinding November 3rd, Glades County Growers Cooperative and the Okelanta mill will open on November 4th, followed by Atlantic on the 10th, Glades Sugar House the 14th, Geocla the 15th, and the Florida Sugar Mill scheduled to start between the 20th and 25th.

Florida Sugar Cane League Elects Two Area Directors

Ray Hatten of Pahokee and Ralph W. Bishop of Clewiston were elected to the board of directors of the Florida Sugar Cane League at a meeting held last Wednesday, Oct. 26, at the Sugarland Auditorium in Clewiston.

Directors representing the eight factory producers will be named at the next directors meeting.

"During the past year the League contributed $40,000 to the Experiment Stations at Canal Point and Belle Glade to assist in the Accelerated Cane Variety Development Program," said H. T. Vaughn, president of the League.

"The development of one or more varieties especially adapted to soil and growing conditions further from the lake," continued Vaughn, "is of great concern and of primary importance to the industry."

"We are pleased that in the short time the accelerated program has been in existence that the research staffs of both experiment stations have reported the development of new varieties of cane showing promise. They and the industry are anxiously awaiting the results of production tests on these and other promising varieties."

Other reports were made covering activities of the league which included the opening of a permanent office in Clewiston; participation in industry hearings before government boards; the study of labor problems in mills and fields; continued water supply studies; and membership relations.

"With the exception of only two or three producers, the membership of the league," said Q. E. Pruitt, chairman of the membership committee, "now includes all processors and producers of sugar cane in Florida."

Dragline

steel its sides are strong enough that they can dispense with the heavy arch commonly used. This permits a 10 percent greater capacity. It is 21 feet from the ground to the shackle of cable which hosts the bucket.

The massive size of this machine is not appreciated until one gets close. A man can stand upright under its cab or house. This house, itself, is 50 feet by 80 and 27 feet in height. The operator sits in a sound proof room high above the bucket. Two enormous drums reel in the 2 1/2 inch hoist cable and the 2 1/2 inch drag cable.

Power to these drums is furnished by a pair of V-8 diesel engines with bore and stroke of 12 1/2" by 16" which turn at 450 R. P. M. Each engine weighs over 18 tons. All other power is furnished by the cylinder of the same dimensions which turns a 125 KW generator. Power for swinging, moving ahead and for the ventilation is all electrical.

Total weight of this dragline is 1200 tons. The bucket alone weighs 18 1/2 tons. If loaded with wet rock it is calculated that the weight could be 560 tons. The shoes on which it moves are 14 1/2 tons and the counterweight alone is 100 tons.

The reach of this machine is almost unbelievable. By casting the bucket, it is possible to pick up a load of rock, swing around and dump it 480 feet away, considerably more than a city block.

No less remarkable than the machine itself is the man who built it. John Page is credited with inventing the dragline principle of digging and lifting the first such machine. It is appropriate that his latest machine should be a civil engineer. For he was a personal friend of Herbert Hoover, in fact Page once worked with Hoover as a civil engineer. On October fifth of this year Page celebrated his 90th birthday, yet he supervised the planning and checked the specifications for this huge machine, even the engines of which were built by his company.

The dedication function was attended by quite a crowd including many ladies, the wives and friends of the officials. Present for this occasion were Luther (Uncle Luke) and his brother E. T. (Uncle Ed) Smith, and Joe Steinhilber, members of the Reynolds and Smith company. The Page Engineering Company was represented by Dewey Blalock who was in charge of the erection of this machine, the sixth one which he has built for Reynolds and Smith. He was assisted by Roland McQuinn, engineer, and Paul Chapman, chief electrician. Harold Conrad, master mechanic for Reynolds and Smith, and Marion E. Pendarvis, their civil engineer were also present.

Operators on this big machine are Joe Lee Williams of Belle Glade, George Smith from Okeechobee and Bill Hemwood who arrived from Ohio. Each shift will have two others, one of whom is a Belle Glade boy, Wilton Hayes.

Climax of the dedication was the unveiling of a huge sign above the roof honoring its builders "Uncle John Page" and "Uncle Dewey Blalock." A peculiarity of the Smith brothers is their christening of their top men with the title of Uncle. This is an immenorl custom in the phosphate mines of Bartow, where they once labored.

The model of this machine is 7-32, the latter figure being the diameter in feet of the circular racking which turns the machine. In spite of its enormous weight of 1200 tons, so large is its surface on the ground that it exerts a pressure of only 9.3 pounds per square inch, about the same as that of an ordinary man.

The big dragline was erected at its present location, the entire operation consuming 13,800 man hours of labor. It is the largest of its kind, a diesel electric, is larger, this being in a strip coal mine in Alabama. As to the cost of this dragline, the Smith brothers were reticent. They admitted that the bucket alone was worth one thousand dollars a yard, which would be $23,000. The whole machine would come to considerably over a million.

Apparently there is uncertainty as to where this machine will work after the present job is finished. "Uncle Luke" Smith has just returned from bidding on work on the Panama Canal, but another company under bid him. His company now is working in the Caloosahatchee River, and the machine may be moved to there. At any rate, it can move dirt if given the chance.

3. Dial the telephone number you want to reach.

4. Give the operator Your Complete (all seven digits) number, when she asks for it. Leonard said, "Subscribers will still dial 'Operator' for person-to-person calls, credit card calls, collect calls, and calls from pay telephones, or other calls that require her personal help."

Another service that goes along with DDD is direct dialing to information operators in distant cities.

If you want to find out the number of someone who lives in Boston, for instance, you dial "1", then Boston's Area Code (617), then the universal information number, 555-1212. This will connect you with an operator in the Boston area who can help you with the number you need. To secure a number in Miami (within our home area), you dial "1" and then the universal number for information, 555-1212. There is no charge for this service.

Change Of Attitude Of GOP's Reported By Judge Candidate

VERO BEACH — A very definite change in attitude among Republicans in this area of Florida has been uncovered in recent weeks by one of the state's high ranking judges with a personal stake in the change.

Sherman N. Smith, Jr., Democratic judge of the Fourth District Court of Appeals in Vero Beach made another discovery while touring the counties of Brevard, Broward, Indian River, Martin, Okechobee, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, St. Lucie and Seminole.

Few people are familiar at all with the Appellate Court, Judge Smith said, including attorneys.

"We do not deal directly with the public," the judge explains. "We see only the attorneys who are appealing a case for their client."

And in speaking with attorneys in the area, the judge said he finds less than one-third of them have ever been in the Appellate Court.

One thing the judge said he found of particular interest is the way Republican voters are starting to view political races.

"For awhile, the pitch by Republican workers was to call for a vote on a straight Republican ticket," he said.

This approach was found successful for one major reason. "Most Republicans in this (county) area are fairly recent arrivals in Florida," he said, "coming here from states where their party chooses the best qualified candidate for office."

This is not the case in Florida where anyone can run, generally without party approval, judge Smith explained. The Republicans who are new on the scene in Florida believe they are voting for someone their party chose as a qualified candidate.

He said many are beginning to realize the difference. Judge Smith, who is now serving in Florida's second highest court, is involved in a political race that has attracted little attention from the public, but he is no novice in Florida politics.

He has practiced law here for more than a quarter-century and has probably held more elective political offices than any man in Indian River County.

A native of Crossville, Tenn., Judge Smith moved to Vero Beach in 1925.

Following his education in public schools of this county and later at Tennessee Tech and Cumberland University School of Law, he began his practice of law that was later to lead him into various areas of public life.

He started as city attorney for Vero Beach, Sebastian and Fellsmere and later took over as county attorney here, a position he held for 12 years.

He served as a member of the Florida House of Representatives from 1952 to 1956. In 1953 his colleagues named him the most outstanding first-term member.

Until his appointment as judge in 1961, and for many years prior to that time, he was listed in Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory with the highest rating a lawyer can obtain.

The directory evaluates attorneys nationwide on the basis of skill, ability, integrity and other points.

He was chief judge of the Appellate Court at Lakeland in 1965 when the Second District was split to form the new Fourth District with headquarters in Vero Beach.

Judge Smith was vice president of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce when he entered the military service in 1942. There he served as an officer in the U. S. Naval Reserve on active duty with the amphibious forces until 1946. During this time he earned stars for five engagements in the European theater and one in the Pacific Theater. He also received the Navy Unit Citation and the Commendation of the Secretary of the Navy.

Other awards won by the judge include the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce Good Government Award in recognition of his interest in promoting good government in Florida.

Judge Smith was married in 1937 to the former Mrs. Olive Heath of Wabasso. They are parents of three children, Mrs. Shirley O'Haire, Sherman N. Smith III, and Roger Smith and have two grandchildren.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE
GROUP 4—DEMOCRAT

Dear Voters:

I am not a member of any special interest group and will work impartially for the best interests of Palm Beach County.

If you support me, every voter in our county can have a say in the conduct of our government.

YOU have told me some of the things YOU are not satisfied with, such as:

(1) "Air and water pollution in Palm Beach County costs us millions of dollars in damage to property, wildlife and our tourist industry."

I will demand stronger legal action to eliminate this hazard to health and property.

(2) "Runaway property taxes. The burden of paying governmental costs should not fall on one group."

I believe we can legislate a fairer method of sharing taxes with a good State Constitution.

(3) Hazardous State Road 80."

I drive this road often and know its danger. I will work with you unceasingly until we get this "unlabeled"

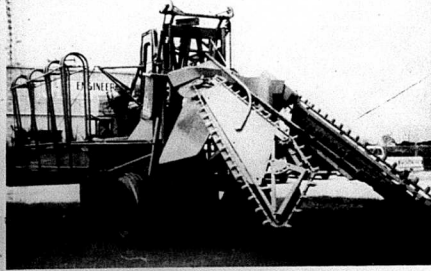

I'll always feel the Glades are my home and share your concern for its problems. I plan to be your active representative in the State Legislature. THINGS CAN BE BETTER! I ask for your vote.

Sincerely,
Jim Maynor

New Sugar Cane Harvester Boon to Local Producers

A new and improved harvester will be a boon to sugar cane producers of the Glades area. It is predicted by the manufacturer.

The current model S-4000 one-line self-propelled "Blue Bird" cane harvester manufactured by J. and L. Manufacturing Co., of South Bay will cut the cane in a fraction of the time hand cutters require. The harvester is powered by a Caterpillar diesel engine.

Jim Beardsley cut 10 acres Monday with one of the harvesters in a six-hour period. This replaced about 72 Jamaica hand cutters.

The S-4000 harvester is equipped with a pair of gathering arms that have moving chains. The arms pick up the cane laying over and makes it erect. The toppers then tops the cane automatically. After topping, the cane is cut at the bottom with a circular blade, 32 inches in diameter, equipped with 12 individual segment blades.

After cutting at stubble, the cane is conveyed through driven crossing arm. The arm is so designed that six rows of cut cane can be piled on one heap row. This is done so that the sugar cane can be loaded mechanically with either a J and L R1000 continuous loader or an L1000 grab type loader.

One of these type harvesters was first introduced to this area last year when the Sugar Cane Growers' Coop of Belle Glade purchased one. There are now 10 harvesters in the area, with all of them being brought up to current specifications.

Improvements in this year's model include:

—The gathering arms have been lowered to make picking up the down cane more efficient.

—A new bottom blade has been designed to eliminate stubble damage.

—A double chain has been put on the crossing arm so that it can properly plow short and tall cane.

—A sweeper chain has been added on the left side to this year's model.

—The wheelbase of the machine has been widened by 12 inches to stabilize the harvester, improving the bottom blade cutting job.

—All chain drives have been improved to eliminate chocking.

In light tonnage cane, the machine will cut about one and a half acres per hour. The average time is said to be three-quarters of an acre per hour.

—Ron Hawkins, Florida Division manager for J. and L., said that in Louisiana all cane is mechanically cut and none is cut by hand. This is made possible because of better harvesting conditions due to the fact that fields are better prepared for mechanical harvesting.

It is estimated that 275,000 acres of cane is grown in Florida and all of this is grown within 25 miles of South Bay, according to Hawkins. This was the reason for locating the division plant at South Bay.

Cost of hand cutting is estimated to be about $150 per ton, while the mechanical harvester can do it at a cost of 32 cents per ton, Hawkins said.

Junior College Sets Straw Vote

The Student Government Association at Palm Beach Junior College has scheduled a straw-vote gubernatorial election on campus on November 4, four days before the actual election.

Although students on campus are generally not old enough to vote in the regular election, the student Senate, in voting for the mock election, affirmed the idea that practice in the mechanics of democratic government, and a live interest in governmental affairs are valid educational experiences.

ENGINEERING FEAT

In 1924 an unusual toll road, the Conners Highway, was constructed along the eastern shore of Florida's Lake Okeechobee. Masterminded by William J. Conners, northern capitalist who needed access to his vast Everglades holdings, this road was built upon a grade of soft muck and rock. At one point its surface sank 40 feet to hardpan during construction; however, despite such a setback, the 53-mile-long highway was completed in eight months. Its tollgates collected more than $1,000 daily.

MR. SANDERS . CHOSEN TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Mr. Troy Sanders, generally a Junior Class sponsor, was seen most afternoons and evenings last week chaperoning the seniors at their float site. Because of his work, understanding, and because of his teaching ability, he has been chosen "Teacher of the Week."

Teaching four American History classes and one Contemporary History class keeps Mr. Sanders quite busy. He has been a member of the faculty for two years.

Mr. Sanders attended East Central Jr. College in Decatur, Mississippi, and has a B. S.

degree from Delta State College, Cleveland, Mississippi.

During Mr. Sanders' two years at Belle Glade he has come to like our small town but believes we need more recreational facilities for young people.

Much of his spare time is spent at the Country Club playing golf, but enjoys football and basketball.

Mr. Sanders is working on a masters degree at Delta State College during the summers and his future plan is to continue teaching.

Meet The President

President of the Future Teachers of America club this year is Jane Zumpf. Jane helped to organize the teacher's lounge coffee project which is being sponsored by the FTA. She and fellow members of the club started this project at pre-school this summer and have continued this project thus far.

"Zumpf" is Palm Beach County Vice-President of the FTA and will be one of those to represent BGHS at the FTA State Convention in November.

Sewing and baking cookies for a certain Chewston boy attending college in Notre Dame are among her favorite pastimes. She would like to learn to water ski sometime in the near future because she thinks it would be loads of fun to know how.

Jane is an active member of the Beta Club and the Pep Club. As business manager of this year's Rambler, Jane spends much of her free time keeping the books on the advertisement sales, and the subscription sales, and the billing of the ads. Also, as assistant to the copy co-editors, she is to assist them in drawing up the ads.

Born right here at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital Jane has lived here all her life, but loves to travel with the Rain-bow girls to visit other chapters of their organization.

Jane taught in the cadet teaching program last year, helping Mrs. Ruff one day a week in her classroom.

Trojans Overrun J. V.'s

Fighting a waning battle, the J. V. Rams were defeated 40-0 last Thursday night. Lake Worth's Don Vandergrift ran over the goal line four times, scoring four touchdowns. Two more trojans, Jack Sabay and Butch Hall helped in raising the score, by scoring two TD's during the game. Sabay also kicked three times to score; and Vandergrift added another point by catching a pass and running over the goal line.

Even though the J. V.'s lost to Lake Worth, they have had an extremely good season. This game was the last for the J. V.'s Rams this year.

Rams Defeated 13-7

Belle Glade fans witnessed an exciting football game last Friday night at the Memorial Stadium.

The Rams had moments of glory throughout the entire game but finally yielded to a hard hitting Seacrest team with the final score of 13-7.

The first TD of the game was made by Seacrest in the first quarter after making a 25 yd. run against a hard hitting Rams defense. The battling Rams were not to be outdone though and they bounced back to tie the score in the second quarter with reserve tailback Terry Mann going over for the tying score from the 6 yd line and fullback Ed Preva running across the goal line for the extra point.

With just seconds remaining in the first half, the fans, enjoying the chilly weather, were chilled even more by a freak touchdown which proved to be the margin of victory. On a 40 yd. pass play the ball was batted into the end zone for what proved to be the winning TD.

Although the second half of the game was completely dominated by the Golden Rams with outstanding running displayed by Matt Woods, and Preva behind professional type blocking, they were unable to score again.

Rambler Editors Elected

Lura Livingston and Joey Hudspeth were elected co-editors of the yearbook from the members of the Journalism class last week. They are responsible for the overall planning and progress of the annual.

Co-editors and assistants of sections were also elected. Linda Lee is editor of the class section, and Jackie Cook and Jeannette Riedel are assistants. Kathy Barron is editor of the activities section. Ramona Lindsay and Bert Murray, assistants. Wendell Wells and Mary Leigh Amerine, as co-editors, will compose new ideas for the sports section. Diane Shiver and Janice Blumenthal are co-editors of the copy. Their first responsibility will be preparing the ad section for the first shipment. Wayne Williamson and Charles Ruff were elected co-editors for the club section. Vicki Challancin will co-ordinate the layout as layout editor.

The first shipment on ads will be due December 17th, the second shipment on classes and teachers due January twenty-fourth, and the third section on clubs, sports, and activities will be due February 25.

It is the responsibility of each person to have his work turned in on time.

Terry E. and Shirley W. Para Medics initiation wasn't too bad. Sure hope the bed-pan was clean!!!

Butch W., Suzanne W., and Kathy B., what's this about a note you had to bring from your parents? Anything to do with the Junior float?

Some people are always talking to the person behind them in Geometry. Do you have a stiff neck yet, Kathy S?

Paul Anderson, what is the story behind your new name—Hawk???

Mark Whittemore, do you have trouble talking these days? By the way, what is your new name????

The Sophomores "Got That

"Kill those Warriors" will be the battle cry of the Rams Friday, November 5. The Rams will face the Warriors at B. G. Memorial field at 8 p.m. The key players of the game will be Julio Perez and Eddie Preva.

Spirit" was decorated with the Halloween weekend approaching in mind. Attendees on the Sophomore float were arena Buckner and Buddy Wilder. They were the first runners up to the winner.

There will be an equal amount of running and passing in this game.

Last year's game with the Warriors was expected to be an easy victory for the Rams, but it almost turned out an overrun victory for the Warriors. The team had the idea that it would be a complete victory for them and didn't play as hard as they should have played.

Jupiter has a fine team even if some of the boys will be missing.

Player Of The Week

By stepping the Seawharks almost completely up the middle, Julio Perez showed great defensive ability. He made several outstanding plays, and led the team in decisive tackles.

Noted by not only the Ram-Page, but also by other papers, Julio has been proven as one of the finest players around. He has played great football all this season, and is commander of the defensive from the middle linebacker position.

Seniors Take First Place

"Dial V for Victory" was the theme of the Juniors float while Susie Rhymes and Dennis Connell watched over a gigantic telephone.

With graduation only eight months away, the Seniors decorated with this theme in mind. A cap, scroll, and yearbook with a phrase of the Alma Mater were the highlights of the float. Representing the Senior class were Frances Collins and Troy Martin.

"When the winner was announced at halftime, the Seniors beamed as their float won. This is the second year the "Class of 67" has presented the winning float.

Troy and Frances then presided over the dance held by the Student Council as King and Queen of the festival.

Football Festival Features Fantastic Floats, Festivities

By Carol Hummel
The 1966 Football Festival opened Friday night with the parade of the sophomore, junior and senior class floats, at the Golden Ram stadium, Belle Glade played Sacrest of Delray Beach and although the visitors were the victors — 13-7 — the 3,000 fans saw a hard fought game.
It was the first crisp game of the season. The temperature dropped to the 60's. Green and white streamers blew in the breeze on the west end goal posts, blue and gold streamers on the east end. Four foundation.

King and Queen of the Senior float, the winning float, were Frances Collins and Troy Martin. The float presented a graduation theme and was decorated with a large white diploma, a year book, and a graduation cap with tassel. On the float were the words, "We're with you, Rams." Behind the float was a tiny wagon pulling Carla Bugges and Leslie Vandergriff.
The floats were designed, and paid for by each class. Students began working on it on Sunday and worked each day from 4 to 9 p. m. finishing the work by Thursday before the Festival.

In the traditional manner the Belle Glade Band marched onto the field to open the game with the National Anthem. As they played the stars and stripes were raised. Then the prayer for sportsmanship and protection by Rev. R. Y. Roseman of Saint Peter's Lutheran Church. Then the explosion, and cheer of the fans. Sacrest Seahawks scored a touchdown after three minutes and 50 seconds of play, and kicked the extra point. It was good.

Then, with only two minutes and 24 seconds left in the first half Terry Mann scored a TB, and Eddie Prevatt closed with the extra point. There's a pass to Sacrest. Quen Wilson deflects it, but it bounced in the air. Seahawks Doug Davis catches it, and is over for a TB. The extra point is good.

The Sacrest High School band, conducted by James Bowen, led the halftime show with the "Host of Freedom March," followed by "The Girl

From Ephraema" and concluded with the school alma mater.

The BG band, conducted by Fred Stevens, in blue pants and coats with white vests and gold trim came on the field swiftly with "Go, Raiders, Go" followed by "I'll Guard You," "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

It was chiller the second half, but this did not dim the enthusiasm of the fans. Now they were hollering at the players to do this and do that. A big confederate flag waved in the student section. Business dropped off at the cat stands in back. The team doctor walked back and forth. A fellow wearing a "Belle Glade High School: Survival Conference Western Champions, 1965" jacket paced.

The second half was a hard fought tussle with the Rams making good drives but each of the drives was stopped by a powerful Sacrest defense. Neither team could score in the final stanza as the score remained 13-7.

After the game a dance was held in the cafeteria which was decorated with blue and gold streamers. The One-Ways a rock and roll band from West Palm Beach, played. The kings and queens of the high school classes reigned over the dance.

ly, farm real estate debt was up 12 per cent January 1965 to January 1966.

Life insurance companies held the largest portion of the Florida farm mortgage total, $165 million, about the same amount as last year. The Federal Land Bank held $63 million, up 20 per cent; and the Farmers Home Administration held $15 million, down 3 per cent.

"Commercial banks throughout Florida held $61 million, up 17 per cent. In addition, these banks financed farmers for many other purposes not involving real estate. Private individuals and miscellaneous lenders held farm mortgages amounting to $294 million in Florida last year, up 7 per cent.

"During the year 1965, new farm real estate mortgages totaling $86 million were recorded in Florida, 17 per cent over the previous year. This amount is included in the debt which is net of amounts paid during the year.

Good Duck Hunting Anticipated

TALLAHASSEE — Field reports from the Canadian duck breeding grounds indicate the best concentrations of ducks seen in the last ten years and duck hunters throughout the nation flyways are awaiting the annual southern migration and the start of the duck, goose and coot hunting season.

According to W. B. Copeland, chairman, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, Florida duck hunters will be able to start duck hunting one-half hour before sunrise on Thanksgiving Day, November 24. The season will remain open for four days of hunting, closing on November 27. The season will then close for five days and reopen on December 3 and remain open through January 8. Hunting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset each open day.

Reports from the Canadian breeding grounds by Duck Unlimited state that the southward movement of blue-winged teal and pintail has taken place, however, it will take colder weather to push many of the birds as far south as Florida.

The daily bag limit for ducks is eight and may not include more than two wood ducks and two canvasbacks. The total possession limit for ducks is eight and may not include more than four wood ducks and four canvasbacks. The limits on mergansers are five daily and ten in possession, of which not more than one daily and two in possession may be hooded mergansers. In specified areas of the state two scup ducks may be taken in addition to the daily bag limit.

Air Force Looks For Applicants

The Air Force is seeking applications from college seniors and graduates with academic backgrounds in science or engineering for the Officer Training School program, according to C-Sgt. Joe Bloom, Air Force recruiter for this area.

Air Force commissioned officer requirements have recently increased. Many of the present Air Force officer vacancies are in the scientific and engineering areas. The Officer Training School program offers an excellent opportunity for college trained scientists and engineers to fulfill their military obligation as commissioned officers while working in an Air Force job commensurate with their academic background.

Air Force Officer Training School is located at Lackland AFB, near San Antonio, Texas. The 10-week course leads to an officer commission and is open to both men and women with college degrees.

The Air Force is also accepting applications from college seniors and graduates for assignment to pilot, navigator and non-technical career areas. Sgt. Bloom added.

Further details on Air Force officer opportunities may be obtained at the Air Force Recruiting Office, 3238 So. Dixie, West Palm Beach, Fla. 33411. Sgt. Bloom may also be contacted at the Selective Service office in Belle Glade each Tuesday at 1:00 p. m. and each Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
